Question 3

- I. Read the following passage and write whether the given statements are true, false or not given. (05 marks)

The primary market is where investors buy new shares issued by a company. Shares can only be bought in the primary market, and the purchases are done directly from the issuing company at the initial price stated by the company itself. However, subsequent to the original issuance of shares in the primary market, trading of shares can be done by investors in the secondary market. The price of a share in the secondary market is called the market price. The market price of a share varies with time depending on the demand. For example, the price of a share in Alliance Limited Company increased from Rs.10 to Rs.20 in a year and subsequently after several years to Rs.28. Such increases and decreases in the price of a share occur in the secondary market, where investors are able to trade their shares.

- (a) The shares can be both bought and sold in the primary market.
- (b) The price stated by the issuing company is the initial price.
- (c) More than 50% of shares can be bought at the initial price.

II. Read the following description and underline the two correct statements.
(05 marks)

It is crucial that at the outset of planning your research, you set the study into a framework that justifies the study and explains its structure or design. This framework is like a foundation for a house. It provides the essential support for the study components and also clarifies the context of the study for the reader, much like a house blueprint. By constructing this framework, you not only justify and explain the study to others but also check your own understanding of the need for the study, how the study is conceived, what knowledge it will add regarding the topic, and how the elements of the study design align with the problem identified for the study.

One of the difficulties for new researchers in developing a framework for a study is that conceptual and theoretical frameworks are defined and described differently by different authors, and the definition of what is considered a study framework may vary by institution. Those definitions can be explored to provide a spectrum of understanding of conceptual and theoretical frameworks. Before exploring the various understandings of conceptual frameworks in depth, it is helpful to compare multiple definitions of the term. Some authors view conceptual and theoretical frameworks as synonymous. A conceptual framework provides the orientation to the study and assists both the researcher and the reader in seeing how the study contributes to the body of knowledge on the topic, how elements of the study align, and how the study design and methodology meet rigorous research standards. A conceptual framework may be defined broadly as theory or literature review, or it may be defined more narrowly as the factors and variables addressed in a study. (Maxwell, 2017; Miles, Huberman, & Saldana, 2014). Essentially, all definitions of conceptual framework provide a context for the study, but the scope of that context varies among authors.

Ravitch and Riggan (2017) presented the most comprehensive understanding of conceptual framework. Their main point was that a conceptual framework is an argument for the study and that argument has two parts. First, the argument establishes the importance of and intended audience for the study. Second, the argument demonstrates alignment among research questions, data collection and data analysis as well as the use of rigorous procedures to conduct the study. They posited that the conceptual framework both informs and describes the development of research questions, design selection, data collection, data analysis and presentation of findings.

- (a) Although research framework helps to understand integral parts of research, it doesn't make the situation of the study clear.
- (b) Different authors have expressed different opinions on conceptual and theoretical frameworks.
- (c) A narrow definition of conceptual framework is literature review while a broader definition is the factors and variables that are investigated.
- (d) The explanation of the importance and the audience of a study and the alignment among all research components is the most comprehensive understanding of conceptual framework.

Case: US travel company's bitcoin ransom

In August 2020, CWT, one of the biggest business travel management firms in the US, was reported to have paid $4.5 million Bitcoin as ransom to a hacker group. The threat actors accessed the company's systems and stole two terabytes of sensitive corporate information including financial reports, security documents, and employees' email addresses and salary information. The attack rendered 30,000 computers offline.

The attackers used a strain of ransomware virus called Ragnar Locker to infect the systems, which was injected via a phishing email. The attack was investigated and the negotiations with the hacker group were carried out with the help of a third-party cybersecurity firm. The hackers initially demanded a payment of $10 million to restore CWT's files and delete all the stolen data. The CWT representative in the negotiations, who said they were acting on behalf of the firm's chief financial officer, said the company had been badly hit by the COVID-19 pandemic and agreed to pay $4.5 million in the digital currency bitcoin.

Federal Express, FedEx is a global express transportation and logistics company that offers customers a single source for global shipping, logistics, and supply chain solutions. In the late 1970s, FedEx saw a great benefit in using IT to simplify its business processes. Smith had very early on understood that speed, reliability and customer service was an essential factor for success in the global transportation industry. They have developed internet technologies that work simply and efficiently to enable customers and sellers to use FedEx as a go between. This has enabled many companies to integrate FedEx technology into their own web sites for customers to use.

The system was set up so that suppliers could maintain a database of catalogs that could be accessed by any FedEx employee. The company website hosts more than 6.3 million unique visitors per month and handles on an average over 2.4 million package tracking requests daily.
